Mrs. Hunter owned and occupied the premises for years, but just before being ousted, through condemnation proceedings, executed a deed in favor of her daughter. Then when the money was paid both mother and daughter claimed it. Mrs. Hunter began suit, alleging that her daughter had obtained title to the property through fraud, having told her while she was too fil to understand business that she would be swindled out of her property unless the transfer was made. Mrs. Hunter also alleges that her daughter obtained from her a necklace, valued at $2,000, and $1,200 in cash,

In the original transfer it was stipu lated that the mother was to have free use of the house for life, and that the daughter should care for her should she ever become destitute. Mrs. Hunter alleges that after signing the deed she went to Old Point Comfort. There she became so ill that she had to be taken refused her funds.

Why Our Wedding Rings Are the Best

To know how Lambert seamless solid gold wedding rings are made is to realize why they last for generations. The gold is rolled first into long bars, then cut by costly machinery into squares, from each of which a ring is moulded. By hand work that rises to the level of art each ring is shaped to the desired size, style, width and thickness. Not a bit of solder is ever used. No charge for engraving.
